A BROADSIDE AT MR. QUAY. A Republican Member Makes a Stinging Speech in the House.

During the discussion of the Breckinridge case in the House yesterday Representative Kennedy of Ohio made an attack on the Senate in general and Mr. Quay in particular on account of their failure to act on the federal election bili. "The election bill," he said, "has been killed by republicans, or pretended republicans. Without fair treatment," he went on, "the bitl which the House of Representatives said imperatively was demanded for the preservation of its own honor and for the safety and stability of its honor and the protection of the whole country against outrage and intimidation and violence, is deliberately put aside without hearing and without opportunity of considera-

"When before in all the past history of legis-lation has one house of the Congress deliberately put upon the other the mark of its de-rision and contempt? The consideration of this measure was demanded by every sense of decency and honor. It was demanded by the House of Representatives that its floor might be purged of those who are enabled to enter reason of violence and murder. The Senate of the United States will learn that there is a bar of public opinion, and that at that bar it is "To have been a Senator in the days of Webster and Clay and Calhoun was to have been a part of a body that won and had the admiration of the people, north and south. To have been a Senator in the days of Wade and Fes-senden and Crittenden was to have been associated with men whose sense of honor would have scorned the purchase of a seat, and would have denied companionship to one whose name was tarnished over by even a suspicion of infamy or corruption. If the Roman toga had been bedragged in the filth and mire of the centuries, surely the cloak of Senatorial courtesy has been used to hide the infamy and corruption which has dishonored and disgraced body which was once the proudest in the land. "SENATORIAL COURTESY."

"The cloak of 'senatorial courtesy' has become a stench in the nostrils and a byword in the mouths of all the honest citizens of the land. It makes a cloak behind which ignorant and arrogant wealth can purchase its way to power and then hide its cowardly head behind the shameless protection of 'senatorial silence. It means a cloak which shall cover up from the public gaze of an outraged people the infamies which demand investigation and which merit the punishment of broken laws and violated statutes. It means a cloak behind which petty party bickerers may barter away a party's prin-cipies and play the demagogue in the face of the people. It means a clock behind which pretended fairness hides its dishonest head while in secret it is trading and trafficking in the rights and liberties of the people. It means a cloak under which not only the timid but the cowardly politician can cover up his tracks and be either foul or fair as the necessity demands. The hour for senatorial courtesy has passed. The ex team of senatorial progress must give hung up with the sickle and the flail of a by-

A REFERENCE TO JUDAS. "It was meet and fitting that Judas should be paid the thirty marks of silver. It was still a part of the eternal fitness of things that, having been guilty of the basest crime of all e centuries, he should go out and hang himself. History is repeating itself. The great party of the republic, having lived for thirty-five years, has never yet assisted in riveting the ckles upon a human being, and now, when it was to be expected that it would redeem its pledges and be faithful to its history.it is about not to be redeemed. It comes victorious from every field. And if it fails now it finds in its own party those who are faithless to the trust away its principles for the tricks and petty schemes of politicians.

"The Judas Iscariot of 2,000 years ago is to find a counterpart in the Judas Iscariot of to-day. The Judas who took thirty pieces of silver and went and hanged himself has left an example for the Matt Quays that is well worthy of their imitation. Some time since I stood upon my place on this floor and I denounced a Senator from my native state because, when charged with corruption and branded with infamy, he did not arise in his seat and demand investigation and inqiry that should establish the purity of his actions and his personal

One other occupying the high piace in the councils of the party to which I belong has suffered himself month in and month out to be charged with crimes and misdemeanors for which, if guilty, he should have been con-demned under the laws of his state and had meted out to him the fullest measure of its punishment. This man is a republican; shall I new remain silent? Is it just and honest to remain in my seat silent because one who is accused of crimes and refuses to seek for vindication is a republican, and that republican the recognized leader of my party?

SILENCE. "Neither decency nor honor would permit me to do so. I do not know whether the charges made against the chairman of the national republican committee are true or false, but I do know that they have been made by journals of character and standing again and again, and I do know that in the face of these charges Matt Quay has remained silent, and has neither sought nor attempted to seek op-portunity to vindicate himself of them. I do ow that, as a great republican leader, he owed it to the great party at whose head he was either to brand them as infamies or to ove their falsity, or he owed it to that party stand aside from its leadership.

"He has not done either, and for this I denounce him. The republican party cannot af-ford to follow the lead of a branded criminal. He has failed to justify himself, and though opportunity and ample time have been given him, he remains silent. His silence under such cir-cumstances is the confession of guilt. An honorable man does not long dally when his

Shouted: "Til fix you for this, pop. You're my father and Modjeska is my mother."

Three weeks later Mr. Miner received a letter e remains silent. His silence under such cirhonor is assailed.

"He has delayed too long to justify the be-lief in his innocence, and he stands a convicted criminal before the bar of public opinion. Under such circumstances he should be driven from the head of a party whose very life his presence imperils. The republican party has done enough for its pretended leader. Let him be relegated to the rear. It is no longer a question of his vindication; it is now a question of the life of the party itself."

Killed by Lightning From a Clear Sky. Tuesday at 5 o'clock, at the Riggs farm, sixteen miles south of Doland, S. D., while on the straw stack at the threshing machine, Peter Peterson was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning from an almost clear sky. The stack was about fifteen feet high. As the bolt struck the stack a flame ascended six feet and it left a hole from the top to the bottom of the stack the size of a barrel, with sides as smooth as a wall. Peterson was found dead on the stack with his clothing all torn off. The deadly fluid apparently struck the top and back of his head, tore the hair and skin from his head, ran down his body, tore off the skin and left the out of the flesh. His clothing was ripped off and lay by his side burning. Stranger yet, the straw stack apparently did not burn.

Remains of Count Mirabeau.

The French government has ordered that a search be made in the St. Marcel Cemetery for the remains of Count Mirabeau. Persons living in the vicinity of the cemetery have addressed a petition to the authorities asking that the order be countermanded on the ground that the exhalations that would arise from digging up the ground would produce an epidemie.

A ST. LOUIS SENSATION. Mr. Frewen Didn't Want the Woman Without the Money.

A St. Louis dispatch says: "The announce ment was made in the papers last Thursday that Mrs. Grace January of this city, widow of the late Jesse January, was to marry the Hon. Cablegrams from members of Mrs. January's family, and even from Mrs. January herself, confirmed the strange announcement made by Judge Boyle and left no room to doubt the genuineness of the information. As several of Mrs. January's relatives tion. As several of Mrs. January's relatives were preparing to go to England to attend the wedding it was necessary to notify them promptly of the altered condition of things. The wedding was to have been a very fine affair and preparations had advanced so far that the bride-elect had, it is said, nearly completed a costly trosseau befitting her own social rank and that of her intended husband. Mrs. Jauuary is at the head of one of the most aristo-cratic circles in St. Louis, belonging, as she does, to a distinguished French-American family. The hitch over the marriage settlement grewout of a provision in the will of Mrs. January's first husband providing that in case of Mrs. January's death the property should revert to her child or children. It is said that this was not all satisfactory to Mr. Frewen, the upshot of the whole affair being that Mr. Frewen withdrew all claims to Mrs. January's hand. She is reported to be one of the wealthiest women of the city, her fortune being variously estimated at $3,000.000 to $5,000,000."

THE KREUTZER SONATA WAR. Holding Up a Dealer's Hands in the Fight for Tolstoi's Book.

Judge Arnold of Philadelphia yesterday granted a writ of habeas corpus upon the application of George W. Arundel, requiring that Charles Arentzen, who was arrested for selling the "Kreutzer Sonata" on the street be produced before him next Friday. Arentzen was held in $500 bail to answer the charge of selling obscene literature. The court will determine next Friday whether the interdicted book comes within the meaning of the statute or not.

EDISON'S BROKEN PROMISES. He Was to Send Emperor William Phonograph, But Didn't.

The Berlin newspapers refer sarcastically to Edison as "the man of promises." It see ms that twelve months ago Edison promised to send the emperor a phonograph, and after ward cabled that the instrument was on its way to Berlin. His majesty invited a large party to see the wonderful work of American genius, but the machine did not turn up at the appointed time, and the imperial party and guests were disappointed of the expected show. To way to the valor of the more enlightened and thake matters worse several letters addressed progressive and determined age. > A CHILD'S TERRIBLE DROP. Jimmy Martin's Thirty-Foot Fall From a Bridge.

Three-years-old James Martin of Philadelphia yesterday afternoon had a most miraculous escape from instant death in falling from the "Five Arch" bridge on the North Penn railroad, which crosses a small creek between Allegheny avenue and Clearfield street. While walking on the bridge, which is thirty feet reposed in them. If it is to be crucified, it is high, he slipped and fell through the trestle only because its chosen leaders have bartered work, landing upon his head upon the stones and ground below. That he was not instantly killed is wonderful. Several men who happened there at the time and saw the accident tenderly picked up the unconscious child and quickly carried him in their arms to the Epis-copal Hospital. At first it was supposed his skull was fractured, but the doctors, after a careful examination, decided that his injuries were not fatal. He sustained a long, deep gash on his forehead and a badly contused wound upon the back of the head.

The little boy, who is a son of Thomas F.
Martin, a carpenter, is a bright little fellow and extremely full of life. When he regained consciousness at the hospital he began to sing and sciousness at the hospital he began to sing and asked the nurse for his mouth organ. His mother had great trouble in keeping him in the house. He would walk up and down the streets singing, but always walked and played with himself, never playing with any of the neigh-bors' children, which accounted for his walk-ing alone on the bridge. He had several times walked as far as Franklinville with no one accompanying him. The mother of the child keeps a small store at 2960 Orkney street. When seen last night, with tears in her eyes, she asked to know the condition of her boy. Her husband has been on a protracted spree and was raving with delirium tremens.

ANNOYED BY AN IMPOSTER. Theatrical Manager Miner Worried by a

Man Claiming to Be His Son. A shabby man of thirty called about four months ago at Harry Miner's house, 115 East 34th street, New York. He told the butler that he was Mr. Miner's eldest son and must see his father at once. When Mr. Miner came into the reception room the shabby man rose, nodded familiarly, and inquired: "I say, pop, don't you know me?" Mr. Miner caught the shabby man by the coat collar, ran him to the door and kicked him half way down the stairs. As he closed the door the man shook his fist and from the Hart's Island work house. The writer said that he was the man whom Mr. Miner had kicked down his front steps, and that he was at the work house under the name of William Lawrence. "Modjeska is my mother," he concluded, "and I want you to send me $25 quick or I will fix you."

or I will fix you."

He made several subsequent calls and once flourished a revolver at Mr. Miner. Yesterday he was arrested. He gave his name to the sergeant as William Henry Miner. He was taken to the Yorkville police court and held in $100 to answer the charge of carrying concealed weapons. He said he was the son of Helena Modjeska and Harry Miner. Afterward he made out a story relating that he was from Limerick, but was stolen from his mother by a New York junkman. Mr. Miner will appear against him in the Yorkville court today.

More Rations Than Indians.

The news that the government census showed 2,000 less Indians at Rosebud agency than rations were being issued caused no surprise in South Dakota, as there is a prevailing opinion South Dakota, as there is a prevailing opinion among most of the squaw men and others in a position to know, that a correct census of the Indians at the different agencies will show a wonderful shortage of Indians compared with the number that draw rations. "There is no doubt," says a Pierre special, "that the Indians are rapidly passing away. It is appaling to note the number of young Indians who are in the last stages of consumption. It seems that last winter the grip got hold of them, the result of which is that nearly half of the Indians at the agency are hopeless consumptives. Another season or two of grip like last winter and the Indian race will be no more in South Dakota."

Texas Republican Convention. called to order at noon yesterday at San tomo. There were something over 500 delegates present, 40 per cent of whom were colored. Nothing was done outside of temporary organization. Wright of Lamar county was put up by the whites for temporary chairman, and Cuney and his colored following pitted R. R. Hawley of Galveston against the Lamar man. The Cuney side won, and will porhaps win throughout the convention. The leading candidates for the gubernatorial nomination are Webb, Flanagan, Osterhout and Rector.

LORD SACKVILLE'S RUDENESS. Mr. Childs Amazed at a Demand for Rent for the Shakespeare Memorial.

Seldom has an event of like character aroused a deeper feeling of resentment in the public mind, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, than the action of Lord Sackville, as manor of Stratford-on-Avon, in making a claim to the town council for encroachment and rent in respect to the magnificent fountain and clock tower

"Indeed, I hardly know what to say about it." On the face it seems to come with ill grace, but in the absence of particulars I hardly know what to think or say."

"Do you suppose that the action of this government in having demanded the recall of Lord Sackville as British minister to Washington for having interfered in American politics by writing the Murchison letter had any influence in governing his conduct in the matter?"
"Indeed, I don't know," replied Mr. Childs. "I am most surprised at the whole proceeding, especially in view of the fact that Lord De La Warr, who is the head of the family, was one of the most enthusiastic and active supporters of the matter. During the ceremonies attend-ing the formal presentation of the gift he even proposed a toast to the President of the United States."

On the contrary it is possible that the claim has arisen as a mere technicality put for-ward simply to preserve the rights and protect the state in other questions of property. It appears that under the land tenures of Eng-land the fact that the spot known as Rother Market, on which the memorial stands, has been used as a public market for over 600 years does not destroy the rights of the lord of the manor. However the town may have the right to occupy the ground for a public market place for all time to come, but no authority to set aside a portion of it for such purpose as the memorial, without raising the question of the reversion of the whole property to the heir of the original owner

Since Lord Sackville has offered to release the demand for tent if the claim will be admitted there are some who are disposed to take a charitable view of his conduct and dismiss the suspicion of spite or undue mercenary advan-tage. If such is the case it is a very unfortunate and morfifying circumstance that the incident should have arisen from the conduct of one known to have a bitter dislike to Americans as Lord Sackville has had since his recall was demanded from the English government by Secretary Bayard for the Murchison letter episode. It will be remembered that Lord Sackville, as Sir Libnel Sackville West, was the British minister at Washington when he was trapped into writing a letter commenting on Cleveland's administration. It was made the subject of a scandal which resulted in his recall. Since that he has cherished little love for the United States or its citizens.

About midnight Tuesday Gen. Hiram Duryea, the Glen Cove starch manufacturer, who lives in Garden City, L.I., was awakened by a strange noise. He armed himself and his two young sons and the three made their way down stairs. Gen. Duryes watched the figure of a strange man move mysteriously about his yard. Motioning to his sons to follow he led the way to the basement of the house. He straight ahead and ready to fire. The door leading to the kitchen was closed. Gen. Duryea cautiquely turned the knob and gently pushed against the door. It opened an inch or so and then slammed shut, as if some one were his revolver leveled in front of him. He found that his aim covered the breast of a man. "Throw up your hands!" he shouted. The burglar didn't seem to have much idea of complying with the request and the general struck him under the ear with the butt of his revolver and the robber tumbled over with the general on top.

Just at this juncture the door which led out into the yard and which stood wide open was darkened with the form of another man. It was the man of the shadow. As he entered from this door the general's two sons entered the kitchen from the hallway door, and before he could reach his pinioned pal he was frozen to the spot by the cry, "Throw up your hands," and the sight of glistening steel. This burglar threw up his hands with alacrity. The party had remained in their interesting attitudes hardly a second when a commotion was heard out in the yard. The son who wasn't engaged had entered several houses in other parts of the town prior to their visit to the Duryea residence, and the owners had given a quiet alarm, got up a searching party and tracked the two burglars to the trap where they were caught. The prisoner: were taken before Justice Clowes of Hempstead and committed to the county jail at Long Island City to await the action of the grand jury.

LYNCHED BY DAYLIGHT. A Mob in a Missouri Town Makes Short Work of a Colored Man.

At Poplar Bluffs, Mo., an altercation Tuesday between Mr. Albright, proprietor of the Gifford House, and Thomas Smith, a colored man, ended in Smith throwing a stone at Albright, fracturing his skull. Yesterday morning Smith's body was found hanging to the bridge across Black river riddled with bullets. After the trouble Smith was arrested and placed in jail. At 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning a masked mob broke down the outer doors of the jail, battered the steel door to the prisoners' cage in and, in spite of the man's plea for mercy, took him across the river and lynched him. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by strangulation at the hands of unknown parties. Albright's condition is very critical and he will probably die.

Five Years in Prison for Mrs. Cavanagh. Mrs. Emily Cavanagh, who fired five shots at her husband, John Cavanagh, the actor, in 14th street, New York, July 24, and who was found guilty by a jury, was yesterday sentenced to five years and four months in state prison. Mrs. Cavanagh took her sentence calmly.

The Strike at Panama.

The strike on the Panama railroad continues. The strikers will not allow work to be done by outsiders. The telegraph wires were cut several times and attempts were made to tear up the rails. Troops have been sent to Colon to maintain order. Steamers will probably be de-tained on both sides of the isthmus in consequence of the strike.

THE GREAT COCOA OF EUROPE. THE LEADING ONE OF AMERICA. AN HOUTEN'S LOCOA

is ever coming to the front. What beverage shall we drink to quench thirst? The most popular non-intoxicant is Cocoa, which is rapidly supplanting tes and coffee as a national beverage. There are many excellent Cocoas, but in advance of all other preparations stands Van Houten's, the original, which is universally declared to be perfectly pure, free from fat, easily digested, delicious to the taste, nutritious and a stimulant without any depressing after-effects.

Van Houten's Cocoa was introduced into the household of the late Emperor of Germany upon high recommendation. The senior physician of the London Court Hospital has used this brand of Cocoa for many years. It is strongly recommended to Students and all whose duties involve much wear and tear, whether mental or physical. For these reasons it has earned the highest encomiums of the leading analysts of the day.

EF It only needs a single trial to convince any one of the superiority of Van Houten's Cocoa. Please insist upon your grocer or storekeeper ordering it for you, and take no substitute. It is put up in one-quarter, one-half and one-pound cans. If not obtainable enclose 25 cents in stamps or postal note to either Van Houten & Zoon, 106 Reade Street, New York, or 45 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, and a can will be sent by mail. Prepared only by Van Houten & Zoon, Weesp-Holland.

What shall we drink to raise the spirits high?
Van Houren's Cocoa, is the universal cry!
The purest and most delicious;
The best and most nutritious.
